Hello!

Interested in being a mentor? Women Mentoring Whiting is looking for upperclassmen or graduate students to serve as peer mentors for this academic year! Women Mentoring Whiting is a mentorship program built to support women and non-binary individuals of all levels in the Whiting School of Engineering. Our program is structured to provide opportunities for students to engage with peers, graduate students, and alumni with similar interests through mentorship and to be part of a tight-knit community. Through quality mentorship and community, we hope to make the students' experience in Whiting more personalized and meaningful.

If you are interested in joining WMW as a mentor, the application can be found below and is due on September 18th, 2022 at 11:59pm.

For more information, you can read more about the program at <https://tinyurl.com/about-wmw>. If you have any questions or would like to chat with us, please contact us at wmw@jhu.edu.

We look forward to meeting you!

Best,

Women Mentoring Whiting Organizing Team
